

Some moments pass like the wind, yet remain with us.

These photographs hold traces of the time we shared on Saint Paul Island: conversations unfolding slowly, hands learning and making together, meals prepared and shared, and quiet moments carried from one encounter to the next. Each gathering left its own imprint, becoming part of the living memory of this project and of the relationships through which it came to life.

WITH SPECIAL THANKS TO THE FACES AT THE HEART OF THIS PROJECT

To everyone who welcomed our camera and allowed us to make their portrait.
Together, these photographs form a living memory of the inspiring community of Saint Paul Island, Alaska.
